

Levels

Features SmartTool™:

- The On/Off button brings up the digital display and it shuts off automatically after 5 minutes when it's not being used
- The digital display is angled for easy reading in low and high positions and even flips over with the level, so SmartTool™ always read "right side up"
- Angle accuracy is to 1/10 of a degree
- The Calibrate button lets you recalibrate SmartTool™ in seconds and you don't even need a level surface
- The Mode button lets you see angles in three ways - degrees, % slope or pitch (inches if rise per foot of run). No two-handed measurements, no conversion calculations, and no mistakes
- The Hold button "freezes" an angle measurement on the display, and can be used to convert readings from mode to another.
- Built-in solid acrylic bubble vials let you quickly check level and plumb
- Listen and Level Audio feature is ideal for poorly lit areas. Also allows hands-free operation as the audible tone alerts you when tool reaches level or plumb
- Durability for long life. SmartTool™ is designed to be job site tough. The box frame is extruded from high strength aluminum. The two bubble vials are machined from solid acrylic blocks and are virtually indestructible. The Sensor Module is encased in a high impact resistant ABS polymer case. It's sealed against dirt and water penetration
- Available in 24" and 48" lengths. SmartTool™ can be purchased as a complete system in 24-inch (60 cm) or 48-inch (120 cm) rail length. If you require shorter or longer lengths, buy the SmartTool™ Sensor Module by itself. The 6.6" (17 cm) Module can also be used as a torpedo level for small tasks of locked into any American brand 6000 Series or 6500 Magnetic Series levels
